Subject: Reefton Powerhouse Project

Hi Francois

I'm the planner that is preparing the resource consent applications for the Reefton Powerhouse Project. I'm hoping you will recall the details of the project which is to restore the historic Reefton hydro-electric scheme to generate electricity and as a visitor attraction.

We were close to lodging consents back in 2014 but the Trust encountered issues with one of the landowners and the project ground to a halt. This has now been resolved and I'm back on the case of preparing the consent applications.

We are also doing another round of consultation, given its been a few years since we last touched base with stakeholders. In 2013 I provided you with details on the project and you advised there were no cultural issues. I'm just touching base again to make sure nothing has changed and that there are no issues/concerns that we should be considering.

I have attached a description of the Project in case you need to refresh your memory on the details, noting the proposal remains the same as that discussed back in 2013. It would be much appreciated if you could consider the information and advise whether you have any issues.

Regards

Rebecca
