

GETTING STARTED

Refer to Section 3 of A Project Guide for Community Conservation Projects

Name of group/project:		Developed By:		Date:
1 Your initial thinking		Page 21		Successful Community Conservation Projects: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Are well planned, using inclusive planning and decision-making processes • Are partnerships that uphold Treaty of Waitangi principles and place high value on cooperation, trust and respect between all involved • Create opportunities for enjoyable learning and participation throughout the project, achieving lasting results Checklist Have you identified: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <input type="checkbox"/> Why the project is needed <input type="checkbox"/> Existing information <input type="checkbox"/> Existing/similar projects <input type="checkbox"/> Likely resource needs <input type="checkbox"/> Who to involve and work with <input type="checkbox"/> What people think <input type="checkbox"/> How you'll find out what others think <input type="checkbox"/> Relevant community realities and dynamics <input type="checkbox"/> What else is happening now <input type="checkbox"/> Information needs/gaps <input type="checkbox"/> Whether a first meeting is needed
Why is the project needed?
What is the issue?
What information exists about it?
Has it been done before?
Who evidence of community interest is there?
What resources might be needed?
2 Who needs to be involved? Who might be:		Pages 21–23
Interested?
Affected?
Have legal responsibilities?
Be good to involve?
3 What do people think? How will you find out?		Page 24		4. Identify initial actions. What will you need to do to get things started? Pages 25–27 <table border="1"> <thead> <tr> <th>Tasks</th> <th>Who is responsible</th> <th>When</th> </tr> </thead> <tbody> <tr> <td>Why are people interested?</td> <td></td> <td></td> </tr> <tr> <td>What do they want?</td> <td></td> <td></td> </tr> <tr> <td>Are people already working on this/a similar project?</td> <td></td> <td></td> </tr> <tr> <td>What community issues/relationships should be recognised?</td> <td></td> <td></td> </tr> </tbody> </table>	Tasks	Who is responsible	When	Why are people interested?			What do they want?			Are people already working on this/a similar project?			What community issues/relationships should be recognised?
Tasks	Who is responsible	When
Why are people interested?
What do they want?
Are people already working on this/a similar project?
What community issues/relationships should be recognised?
Why are people interested?
What do they want?
Are people already working on this/a similar project?
What community issues/relationships should be recognised?

PLANNING TO SET YOUR DIRECTION

Refer to Section 4 of the Guide for Community Conservation Projects and Section 7 of the Tool Kit for Community Conservation Projects for ideas about how to plan with your group.

Name of group/project	Developed By:	Date:
1 Assess the Current Situation		Page 31
Review your background information What are the things we need to take into account? Who should be involved in the planning?		Successful Community Conservation Projects: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Are well planned, using inclusive planning and decision-making processes • Are partnerships that uphold Treaty of Waitangi principles and place high value on co-operation, trust and respect between all involved • Create opportunities for enjoyable learning and participation throughout the project, achieving lasting results
2 Establish Vision, Goals and Objectives		Pages 32–34 and section 7 of Toolkit for Community Conservation Projects
Vision: Goals: Objectives:		Checklist Does your Plan include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <input type="checkbox"/> Desired community and environmental results (your vision, goals, objectives) <input type="checkbox"/> Priorities <input type="checkbox"/> Actions that will be taken <input type="checkbox"/> What resources are required <input type="checkbox"/> How resources will be provided <input type="checkbox"/> Who will take which roles and responsibilities <input type="checkbox"/> Timelines <input type="checkbox"/> How progress will be monitored AND <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <input type="checkbox"/> Did you involve everyone in the planning? <input type="checkbox"/> Have you confirmed and communicated your plan? <input type="checkbox"/> Is your plan integrated into your organisation's systems and procedures?
3 Identify Actions and Priorities		Page 34 and section 7 of Toolkit for Community Conservation Projects
Actions	Who responsible	Priority
4 Identify How to Monitor and Evaluate		Page 35
What could/should be monitored?	How and when will you review your progress?
5 Confirm the Plan		Page 35
How will this happen?	By whom?
6 Communicate the Plan		Page 35
Who needs to know about your Plan?	How will you let them know?

WORKING WELL AS A GROUP – ESTABLISHING YOUR GROUP

Refer to Section 5 of A Guide for Community Conservation Projects

Name of group/project:			Developed By:	Date:
1 What are the needs and interests of the project partners? What are each offering to the group/project?				Pages 37–38
Partner:	Need/Interest	Skill/Resource offered	Any constraints	Successful Community Conservation Projects: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Are well planned, using inclusive planning and decision-making processes • Are partnerships that uphold Treaty of Waitangi principles and place high value on co-operation, trust and respect between all involved • Create opportunities for enjoyable learning and participation throughout the project, achieving lasting results Checklist : <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <input type="checkbox"/> Have you taken account of each partner’s needs and constraints? <input type="checkbox"/> Have you agreed how decisions will be made? <input type="checkbox"/> Have you identified how you will communicate and cooperate? <input type="checkbox"/> Have you agreed on a set of ground rules? <input type="checkbox"/> Have you selected a structure and confirmed membership arrangements? <input type="checkbox"/> Have you recorded what’s been agreed and identified a review time for the future?
2 How do we want to operate?				Pages 38–39
How will we reach decisions?
How will we communicate and coordinate between ourselves? and with people outside?
What ground rules should we observe?
3 What should our group be like?			Pages 39–41	4 Where and how will we record our group agreements?
What’s our name?			How?
What are our geographical boundaries? What is our arrangement concerning membership?			Where?
What group structure will best help us meet our project aims?

WORKSHEET FOR PLANNING YOUR EVALUATION

Refer to Section 6 in A Guide for Community Conservation Projects

Name of Group/Project:	Developed By:	Date:
Identify evaluation purpose		Pages 54–56
Why are we doing this? How do we want to use our results?		Successful Community Conservation Projects: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Are well planned, using inclusive planning and decision-making processes • Are partnerships that uphold Treaty of Waitangi principles and place high value on co-operation, trust and respect between all involved • Create opportunities for enjoyable learning and participation throughout the project, achieving lasting results
Identify evaluation questions		Pages 54–56
What questions do we need answers (the ones that will fulfill our purpose)?		Checklist for your evaluation: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <input type="checkbox"/> Has a clear purpose and the questions to be explored will answer this purpose <input type="checkbox"/> Has defined boundaries <input type="checkbox"/> Is focussed on achievement of defined outcomes <input type="checkbox"/> Uses a simple process <input type="checkbox"/> Includes and analyses all relevant data <input type="checkbox"/> Respects values, rights and perspectives of those involved <input type="checkbox"/> Was developed in partnership with stakeholders and meets their needs <input type="checkbox"/> Takes steps to ensure the results will be valid and reliable <input type="checkbox"/> Is cost effective
Identify evaluation ‘stakeholders’		Pages 54–56
Who needs to agree to the evaluation purpose, questions, method and timeframe? How will we get this ‘sign-off’ from people before we begin?
Identify data sources		Pages 54–56
What/who are potential data sources? What data will we gather to best answer our questions?
Identify method		Pages 53–54 and section 8 of Toolkit for Community Conservation Projects
What methods will we use to get this data?	What protocols do we need to observe to make sure our results will be valid and respectful to everyone involved?
Identify benchmarks or indicators		Pages 54–56
What are the indicators or benchmarks we are evaluating against?
Identify resources required		Pages 54–56
Who will carry out the evaluation?	What materials will we need?
Identify when you will evaluate		Pages 54–56
What is the timeframe?		