Fruits of the recovering forest, Big Bush.
Now available to the birds: kopi (right), supplejack (below). Sustained possum control has allowed this to happen.

FIGURE 20

Forest regeneration or human shrinkage? In Nikau Bush Scenic Reserve, young nikau have grown rapidly in three years: in 1993 they were waist high on Sue Scheele (above); in 1996 they dwarfed Amanda Baird (below).
