

Figure 1. Aerial photograph of Quail Island, 1962. Most of the trees visible are exotics planted during the European occupation of the island.

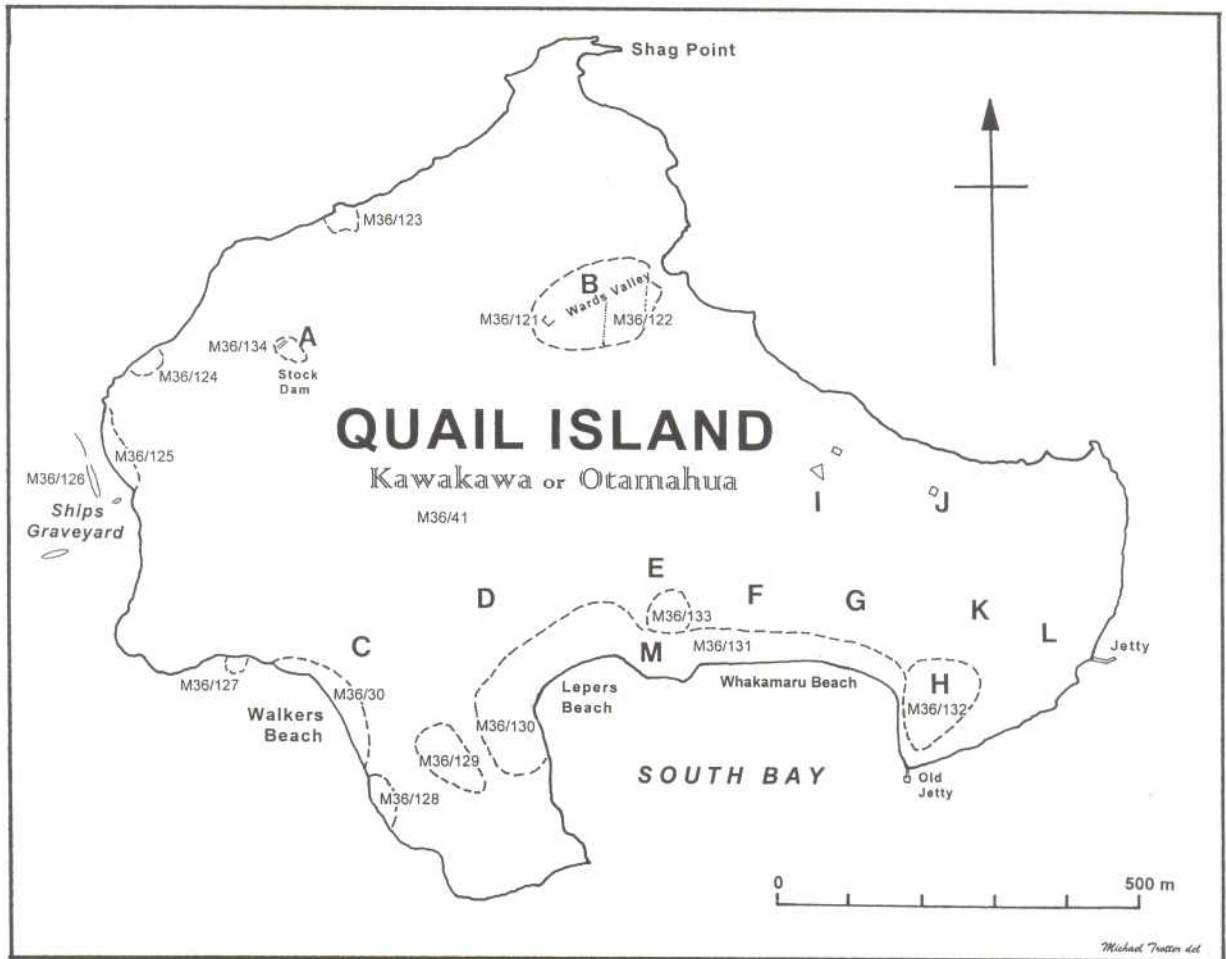

Figure 2. Sketch map of Quail Island showing areas of proposed planting (labelled A to M) and recorded archaeological sites (prefixed by M36). Names of geographical features are taken from Jackson (1990 back cover), Weaver et al. (1985: 34), Ford (1980: 1) and site record forms (M36/121,122).

Figure 3. Historic stock water dam embankment. Planting is proposed on the slope on the right.

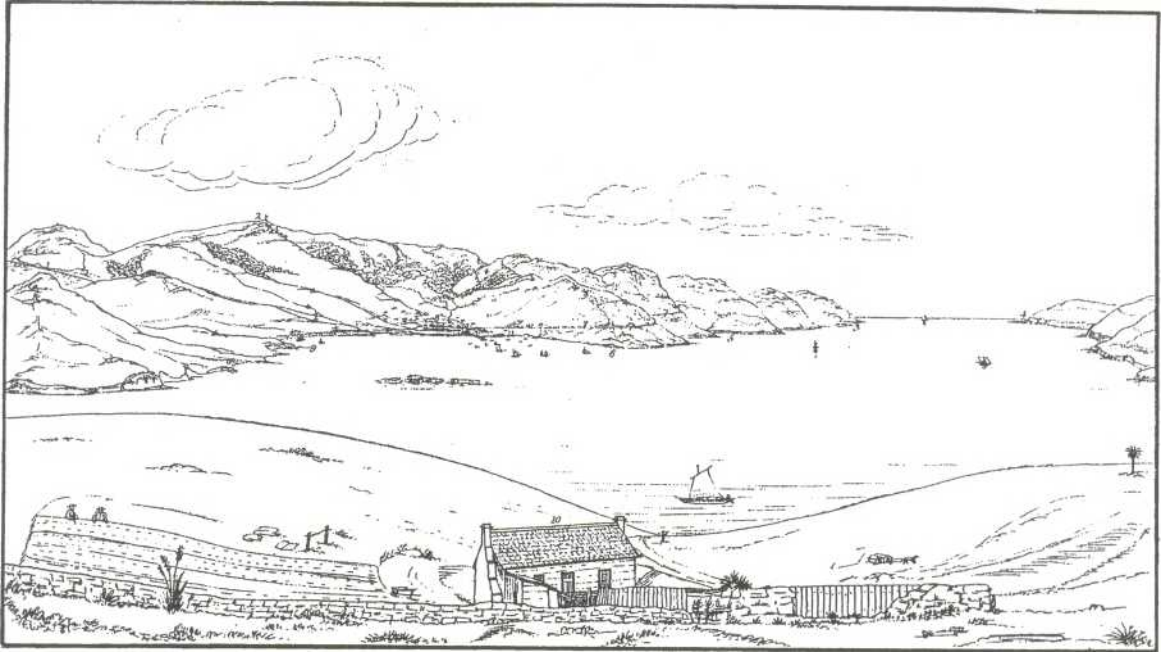

Figure 4. Holmes' drawing of Wards' cottage 1852. (From Adams 1853: plate 1.)

Figure 5. Photograph of Wards' cottage site 1999.

Figure 6. A spall of basalt from the hill above the Old Jetty.